

QUEEN, ASB VOTE FRIDAY

Inner Quad To Be Busy Tomorrow

Busiest place on campus tomorrow will be the Inner Quad where the polls are slated to be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the election of Homecoming Queen finalists, sophomore court justices and senior, junior and sophomore class officers. In case of rain, voting will be held in front of the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Now in the running for the Queen title are 26 campus coeds while the office seekers total 20, following weeding out on the basis of eligibility lists submitted by class officials. Campaigning began yesterday with the sprouting of posters over campus and posting of the queen candidates' pictures on the bulletin board in front of the coop.

Stan Croonquist, Student Court chief justice, commented yesterday that "there has been more campaigning this year" for the royal title although the contestants are fewer in number than they were last fall, the first time that voting for the 10 semi-finalists was held in conjunction with class elections.

Croonquist pointed out that the entire student body is eligible to vote for the sophomore justices. Running for the posts are Gary Clark, Nada Stepovich and Madeleine Planchon.

Croonquist explained that students will be given ballots for their individual classes on the basis of the class name stamped on their student body cards. Any students with unstamped cards should report to the Graduate Manager's office, according to Croonquist.

Election results will be broadcast over radio station KXRK tomorrow night during the "Spartan Salute" show and later newscasts. Croonquist said that the returns also will be announced at the Frosh-Soph Mixer.

The ballots will be counted immediately after the elections by Croonquist, Nancy Adams, Margie Marks, Alice Forman and members of the Student Court.

SJS Centennial To Be Discussed By Council Today

Plans for San Jose State's centennial celebration to be held in 1957, will be discussed today during a meeting of the President's Council at 2 o'clock in the President's office.

A committee will be appointed to begin planning for the event. President Wahlquist added that another committee may be selected to begin writing a history of the college in preparation for the centennial.

He said that the council probably would discuss the Fraternity-Sorority Governing Board decision concerning the serving of beer at rush functions.

Nominations Open For Who's Who

Nominations will be opened to the student body today for the campus leaders whose names will be included in this year's "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Dr. E. W. Clements, chairman of the selection committee, has announced.

The blanks, available in the Activities office, may be submitted today, tomorrow and Monday. It is the first time nominations have been open to the student body. The final list will be compiled by a selection committee composed of student and faculty members.

Co-Rec Group Meets Tonight

Co-Rec, open to all ASB card holders, will meet tonight in the Women's Gym from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Badminton, table tennis, social dancing, volleyball, and card games will provide entertainment, according to Bobby Hoepner, co-chairman.

Final plans are now being made for the fourth annual All-College Badminton Tournament which will be Oct. 26, 27 and 28, according to Miss Hoepner.

Student Council Votes No Combined Group Floats

The Student Council yesterday voted 9-3 against groups combining to make Homecoming floats but said it would "reconsider" the question if Panhellenic and the Interfraternity Council voted for grouping.

Panhellenic already has voted in favor of grouping. IFC met last night and was scheduled to vote on the question. If the IFC decided to take the question to the fraternities for a vote, a decision will not be forthcoming until next week's IFC meeting.

The Council voted against allowing fraternities and sororities to go together in the making of Homecoming floats in the face of 40 pro-grouping fraternity and sorority members who attended the council session.

After the decision, the council voted to bring the motion up again at a special meeting, probably

The Inter-Fraternity Council last night reaffirmed a previous decision of non-grouping of sororities and fraternities on Homecoming floats. Immediately following the meeting, ASB President Art Lund said that a special meeting of the Student Council will be held Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union to again consider the matter.

Lund said, however, that the council would "probably" again vote against grouping since IFC had decided against it even though Panhellenic had approved the measure earlier.

Tuesday, if IFC and Panhellenic votes for grouping, ASB President Art Lund told the Daily yesterday.

IFC President Bob Goforth told reporters yesterday that he "doubted" if the IFC would reverse a decision made at last week's meeting when they officially voted against grouping.

Homecoming Committee Chairman Vern Perry, commenting on the decision, said, "maybe next year" to the future of grouping, but added "not this year, after all the planning has been done." He said the fraternities and sororities "should have come to us earlier."

Shortly after the meeting came to order the pro-grouping faction entered the council chambers and spokesman Don Nunes from Alpha Tau Omega presented its case. During the discussion between him and Perry, Nunes stated, "We want quality in the parade, not just quantity. We feel enough houses want the doubling up this year and that it wouldn't take too much changing to arrange it."

A member of the pro-grouping faction commented that the doubling up should be allowed since the "Greeks make the parade."

Organizations represented were Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Phi, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Delta Gamma.

Points against the pro-faction as outlined by Perry were:

1. The trophies have been purchased and couldn't be sent back. If other trophies were ordered, it would be a strain on the Homecoming budget.

2. Organizations did not come before the Homecoming Committee with such a proposal earlier. Since plans have been made for a three section parade, alterations and changes would have to be made in the basic plans.

3. How could budgets be held to an allotted amount?

COP May Visit SJS Campus For Game Rally

An exchange rally with COP tentatively has been set for Nov. 4 in the Morris Dailey Auditorium, according to Shunji Ito, Rally committee chairman.

Ito said that an exchange rally at COP also is tentatively set for Nov. 1 or 2. He said that planning for these events in their first stages and final dates and programs will be announced later.

Work for the COP game on Nov. 6 will continue at the next meeting of the committee Wednesday in the Morris Dailey.

The committee also is expected to work on card stunts, posters and the Queen's float for Homecoming.

Croonquist Keeps Top Court Post

Stan Croonquist was reappointed chief justice and Don Atkinson, a pre-legal student, was named prosecuting attorney for the Student Court yesterday by the Student Council.

Along with these appointments, positions on ten ASB committees were filled.

They were: Revelries Board, Barbara Fischer, Alby Martin, John Marken and Dick Leyva; Health Cottage, Sue Dick; Awards committee, Jerry Schaffer, Judy Raubenheimer and Don Hubbard; Spartacamp, Ray Freeman; Fairness committee, Win Dahl, Max Phillips, Bob Fuchigami and Bob Weiss; Spartan Shop Board, Phyllis Moyer, Barbara Taylor, Dale McPherson and Tom Barton.

Student Activities board, Joan Ereno and Carol Hotchkiss; Chapel use, Ed Wright and Oliver Redington; Movie committee, Dick Leyva and Stan Croonquist, and College Life, Hank Ramp.

The right to replace appointees was reserved until all requirements have been checked.

SAC To Discuss Plans Today For Nov. 5 Ball, Queen's Float

Decorations, bids and publicity for the Coronation Ball, Nov. 5, will be discussed at a meeting of the Social Affairs committee tonight at 7 o'clock in Room 117, according to Jim Cottrell, committee chairman.

In addition to work on the Ball, the group will discuss the Queen's Float, which is sponsored jointly by the Rally, Homecoming and Social Affairs committees. The Coronation color theme for the float will be purple and white. A crest similar to the one used for the Coronation Ball will also be used.

Cottrell announced Tuesday that Ray Hackett will play for the ball, which is to be held in the Civic Auditorium.

2 Coeds Added To Queen Race

Two new candidates were added to the Homecoming Queen race as nominations closed yesterday, according to Sherry Nuernberg, contest chairman.

The new contestants and sponsoring organizations are Sue Ann Zimmerman, Alpha Phi Omega, and Pat Lavery, Phi Kappa Alpha.

Photos of the 26 contestants are on the bulletin board outside the Coop, Nuernberg said.

The election for queen will be held tomorrow in the Outer Quad or in the foyer of the Morris Dailey Auditorium if there is rain.

Students will vote for three candidates. Ten women will be selected in tomorrow's election. The queen and her four attendants will be chosen from the ten, Nov. 4.

Group May Issue Slick Daily Oct. 19

Members of Sigma Delta Chi have tentatively scheduled Oct. 19 as the date to issue their special "send home" edition of the Spartan Daily, according to Dick Jones, president.

Until the four-page glossy paper edition is issued, the fraternity members will sell tickets redeemable for the paper. Members may be located in the Spartan Daily office.

The paper is 15 cents a copy or 18 cents a copy mailed home for the student.

Thrust and Parry

Editors' note: The pros and cons of the Vorty address have been covered amply in the columns of Thrust and Parry. Further letters on the subject will not be published.

Raving Grapes

Dear Thrust and Parry:

If we were to believe what surely must be the ravings of the "sour grape" element, we would say that the student body of this campus is lethargic personified, but never before did this idea hit me with such force as in observing the docile acceptance of President Wahlquist's policy concerning political speakers.

I only hope that this attitude is not typical of college administrations in this country. If it is, I can understand the necessity for loyalty oaths and various other asinine guarantees of obedience. This is probably the first time in history that it has been proven, with such alarming efficiency, that the "pen is mightier than the sword." And here—what?

As President Wahlquist was inaugurated during my absence from school, his reasons for such action are not clear—to me, anyway. So, for myself, and for what new students that may be interested, would you tell me his reasons for refusing those who would attempt to interest the students in exercising their rights and performing one of their civic obligations?

Pres. Wahlquist Sees A.F. Bases In Flying Cross-Country Trip

SJS President John T. Wahlquist described as "impressive" a gigantic air firepower display which he witnessed during week-long flying visits to nine Air Force installations across the country.

He returned yesterday from the tour as the personal guest of Col. William E. Carpenter of Parks Air Force Base. Dr. Wahlquist left on the cross-country air journey last Wednesday.

Highlight of the trip, Dr. Wahlquist said was the air-power demonstration at Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.

Guests from all over the country, including 34 persons from California, saw displays of strafing, napalm bombs, high velocity rockets and other air firepower.

President Wahlquist cited a visit to the Amarillo Retraining group which rehabilitates convicted minor offenders as another interesting part of the tour.

Other bases visited by the group included Randolph AFB, Tex., Scott AFB, Ill.; and Keesler AFB, Miss.

Cancel Orientation

The Freshman Orientation meetings originally slated for yesterday morning and this afternoon, have been cancelled, according to Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz.

Benz said that no plans for another orientation series now are being formulated, but he urges freshmen to consult with the heads of their departments as they would have done at the planned meetings.

The bells bonged at the wrong time! SJS students doubted their watches yesterday as the tower bonged out the time of day 15 minutes slow.

In an American literature class of Dr. Raymond Barry's in the Home Ec Department the bells sounded at what was believed to be 11:15 a. m. But 11 bonged sounded. The class happened to be taking one of his blue book tests on authors during the colonial times and time was short.

A "Wot Hoppen" look came over the class; Dr. Barry reached for his watch and stated "Five more minutes. Everyone should be on the last question."

It will be weeks until the class believes the bong again!

For Whom the Bong Tolls.

Bryon Bollinger, supervisor of construction, said the mix-up in the sounding of the chimes was due to a break in circuit when the electricity momentarily went off early this morning. A relay, which sets off the chimes, trips the electrical circuit every 15 minutes, but because of the power failure the chimes were 15 minutes slow today. An electrician reset the chimes.

End 12th in U.S. Pass Receiving

End Clarence Wessman moved into 12th place among the nation's major-college pass receivers while SJS ranked among the top 20 in total offense and pass receiving, according to NCAA figures released yesterday.

Wessman was the second Spartan gridders to gain national prominence. Quarterback Benny Pierce ranks fourth among the nation's passers.

Wessman, singled out by Coach Bob Bronzan for his fine game against Arizona State Saturday, has snared 10 aerials in four games totaling 198 yards and one T. D.

The Spartans stand 14th in total offense with 1398 yards gained on 258 plays in four games for a 349.8 yards per game average.

San Jose State jumped to seventh place in forward passing with 42 completions in 86 tosses for 844 yards and a 48.1 percentage. The aerials have provided a 151 yard average per game and seven touchdowns.

Tackle Crawford, Guard Louderback Win Weekly Titles

Tackle Jack Crawford and Guard Tom Louderback captured the Mr. Downfield and Mr. Pass Protector titles, respectively, for the Arizona State game week, according to figures compiled by Line Coach Bill Perry.

Crawford tallied 137 points to out-distance his closest rival, End Charlie Hardy, who scored 97 markers.

All-Coast candidate Louderback annexed the pass protector honors with a .956 percentage to nip Crawford's .955 average. Louderback had 43-45 blocks compared to Crawford's 42-44.

Dept. Displays Indians' Crafts

By CAROL EISBEE

The first Americans left a few things behind them, and the Home Economics department has them.

Indian handicraft from California and the Southwest is now on display in the Home Economics Department show case. All the articles are genuine and most are fairly recent, having been made sometime during the past 100 years, according to Miss Martha Thomas, associate professor of home economics.

Strings of wampum on display were used for trading and came from the bottom of Kern Lake in Kern County, Miss Thomas said. One string is made entirely of small shells and another is of colored beads alternated with thin white rods. Wampum usually was worn around the neck, but occasionally the Indians carried them in small leather pouches, similar to ones displayed in the case.

The pouches in the case show European influence of beading. Before the advent of the white man with his colored beads, most of the Indian pouches were plain leather, according to Miss Thomas.

All baskets displayed are from the Yroek, Uroek, and Hoopa tribes in the Klamath and Trinity River country. These baskets are recognized as being the finest examples of Indian basketry in the United States, Miss Thomas said. The bow displayed is believed to have come from the Iroquois tribe in the north-east area of Illinois.

Baby cradles or carrying baskets, hanging in the back of the case, were used by Indian mothers to carry their children from birth to the age of three or four months. Immediately after birth the infant was bound into one of these baskets which the mother carries by a handle on the top.

The blanket on the wall of the case is of Navajo origin and is over 100 years old, Miss Thomas said. The smaller blanket or rug is also Navajo, but is more recent.

Frosh Attend Class Mixer Friday Night

All freshmen are urged to attend the Frosh-Soph Mixer in the Women's Gym Friday at 8 p. m., according to Dick Takaha, Freshman class president.

Takaha explained that all Freshmen are welcome, not only those who attend class meetings. Attendance is one of the four categories on which judging of the competitive event is based, he said. The other categories are dancing, games and entertainment.

Winner of the contest is awarded the traditional plaque. Sophomores are now in possession of the plaque and are confident that they will keep it, according to Jim Tormey, mixer publicity chairman.
